

Scholarship of NARL, the Amateur Radio Club of Connecticut's Capital Region

Selection Criteria

Student must be a senior in high school and a resident of a community represented in NARL membership. If your high school received this notice, then you are in a community represented in the Newington Amateur Radio League membership.

Student must attend an accredited 2-year or 4-year college or university.

Chosen field of study must be in the sciences, computer technology, mathematics, engineering, communications, technology or related field.

The student will carry a cumulate Grade Point Average of 3.0 or higher

Preferred consideration will be given to an active FCC-licensed Amateur Radio operator or child of an active FCC-licensed Amateur Radio operator.

Selection Process

Each high school may nominate one student to receive the $500 scholarship award during the selection period that opens February 1 and ends May 1.

Students must complete the application and submit with full official transcript and letters of recommendation (one school reference and one personal character reference).

The NARL Scholarship committee will recommend the winner to the NARL Board.

The School will be notified by letter.

The award will be mailed directly to the student's school upon receipt of complete contact information.

Questions may be directed to Steve Ewald, President, NARL, by email to sewald@arrl.org.
